

SAY!

CHARLES J. ARNOLD

There came to my desk this morning a picture postcard, showing Memorial Bridge over Vermillion River, Danville, Ills. The post card was of the anonymous character, no name being signed.

The postcard was addressed "Charles Jule Arnold," the "Jule" being my middle name, over which I had no control. Its only recommendation, as I see it, is that it is short.

But back to the post card. This is the very inspiring message: "Certainly wish you were here enjoying this wonderful country and more wonderful people. Really, Chas, you should get away from home occasionally. It broadens ones ideas."

Now I ask you in all seriousness, can you comprehend the workings of the one's mind who wrote that inspiring and deep thoughted message?

Take the first sentence for instance: "Certainly wish you were here enjoying this wonderful country and wonderful people."

Were you ever in Danville, Ill.? Well if you ever were in Danville, it would have been just as well for you if you were "ill."

If there is anything wonderful in Danville, the most wonderful thing I know is that it is a wonderful to get out of that town.

Of course they have an Old Soldier's home there, but I am not an old soldier.

And he speaks of the wonderful people. Well, I know several folks in Danville and there are just regular folks—nothing more than what we have right here at home.

And then the writer intimates that I never have been in Danville. Well, I have. In fact I almost was arrested there once.

And the picture of the bridge which he sends me. Why I saw that bridge many years ago—when it was in its natural state. I mean when you had to ford the river.

"Really, Chas, you should get away occasionally." Now that is fine advice I will admit, but there are others who have to be considered in that matter. Take, for instance, my wife. Of course I would not even think of leaving home without her consent and when it comes to me getting the consent of my wife to leave home, well—she just likes me too much.

But that last crack, he takes at me: "It broadens ones ideas." If going to Danville, Ills., will broaden Don McLean's ideas, I'm glad. But I cannot refrain from commenting, thus: It don't take a lot to broaden his ideas. If I were seeking a place to broaden mine, Danville, Ills., would be about the last place in this big flat world I would choose. The wide open spaces give much more opportunity to broaden.

But, anyway, Don. Thanks for the postcard. I do love picture postcards, don't I?

And if a trip to Danville broadens your ideas, I can only say they were sadly narrow to begin with.

This afternoon I am an innocent bystander at the Greencastle High School-Brazil football game. And here is a little "tip". Don't gamble in stocks. I speak with authority. A few years ago I traded horses. That was my last stock gamble. And there is a reason.

JAIL GETTING NEEDED REPAIR

The Putnam County Jail now empty of prisoners, is getting some needed repairs as the result of activities by imprisoned men.

According to the Sheriff, inmates of the jail during the past several months have torn out iron water pipes, have dug the mortar from between the stones in the cell walls and done other damage.

Pipes are torn out by the prisoners to secure weapons for a surprise assault on the Sheriff or his deputies, or to secure implements with which to attempt to loosen bars to dig between stones in an effort to make an opening for an escape.

Plumbers and stone masons will repair this damage during the time the jail is empty.

EXECUTIONER FOR CAPONE IS RELEASED

DOCUMENT PURCHASED BY STATE'S ATTORNEY'S OFFICE ACCUSING FRANK BEIGE INSUFFICIENT TO HOLD GANGSTER

LIST ALL KILLINGS

New York Police Attempt to Link Man With Assassination of One of Brooklyn's Gangsters

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—(INS)—

Frank Beige, alias Perry, named in a purported accusation by his estranged wife as the official executioner for the Capone interests hereabouts, was at liberty today on bonds of $7,000.

The 24-page document purchased by the state's attorney's office for $25 was insufficient to hold Beige in custody although the accusations credited him as being the man who killed at Capone's command.

The purported statement lists details of all the killings that Beige is said to have recounted to the woman. Before he was released Beige was questioned regarding these disclosures that she claimed he made to her:

"That he boasted he had been Capone's watch dog."

"That he had double crossed Capone and had attempted to extort $10,000 from the gang leader by threatening to expose him as the slayer of assistant state's Attorney William McSwiggin."

"That he boasted of making a deal with Ralph Sheldon to slay Ben Newmark, a politician."

Mrs. Beige's account or her husband's efforts to blackmail Capone asserts her husband boasted a direct knowledge of the McSwiggin slaying.

But Beige denied all charges made in the statement, alluding them to his wife's "imagination."

As a result of Mrs. Beige's alleged statement an attempt is being made by New York authorities to couple her husband with the assassination of Brooklyn's late foremost gangster, Frank Uale.

New York police wired Chicago yesterday asking that finger prints and photographs of Beige be forwarded along with any information tending to connect him with the murder of Uale.

Capone from his cell in Philadelphia has contradicted one of Beige's contentions—that he doesn't know the gang leader.

"Sure I know Beige, but there is nothing to what his wife says," Capone declared.

He denied having any letter demanding money from either Beige or his wife since his arrest in Philadelphia. Warden Herbert Smith of Eastern penitentiary where Capone is sejourning, said that the letter referred to by the Chicago authorities had not been turned over to them by him or any other member of the prison staff.

FALL DEFENSE WITNESSES TO TESTIFY

ADMIRAL J. K. ROBSON AND E. L. DOHENY TO TAKE STAND IN BEHALF OF FORMER SECRETARY OF INTERIOR

Doheny Will Tell About $100,000

Loheny Will Tell About $100,000 Transaction Which Forms Basis for Present Trial

By GEORGE E. DURNO International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—One of the two big defense guns in the bribery trial of former Secretary of Interior Albert B. Fall will go into action today; the other will be ranged tomorrow.

Before adjournment of court this afternoon, Frank J. Hogan, chief defense attorney, expects to reach admiral J. K. Robson and tomorrow's session will see E. L. Doheny, the California oil magnate, on the stand.

It was Robson who, in the conspiracy trial of Fall and Doheny, came forward and literally sought to take full responsibility for the lease of the Elk Hills Naval Oil Reserves on his shoulders, although the government contends the ex-cabinet officer and the oil baron connived over it. Robson has defended the lease as one which was exceptionally beneficial to the government and he will tell how, in his opinion and that of other high naval officials, it became necessary to throw the reserve open to private exploitation to prevent drainage from the outside.

Doheny will tell about the $100,000 transaction that forms the basis of the present trial. Far from being the bribe the government says it was Doheny will tell the judge and jury it was an unsecured loan from one old friend to another and had no bearing on his acquisition of Elk Hills.

Presentation of the defense has been lengthened at least several days by the action of Justice Hitz in permitting the government to close its case with the introduction of evidence about Fall's dealings with Harry F. Sinclair, who got the Teapot Dome lease. In cash and liberty bonds, Fall received a total of $304,600 from Sinclair, which the defense says represents the purchase price of one-third interest in Fall's New Mexico ranch, but branded as another bribe by the prosecution. Prosecutor Owen J. Roberts put it in the record to "show Fall's state of mind" at the time of the leasing of the oil reserves, and Hogan will have to controvert it with what, in effect, will be a defense of the Fall-Sinclair deal within the defense of the current trial.

H. Foster Bain, former director of the bureau of mines, was the day's first witness.

Under guidance of defense counsel he told of numerous conferences between navy and interior department officials preliminary to the leasing of Elk Hills. His testimony was designed to refute government charges that Fall and Doheny alone connived over the contract.

BARE LEGS NO INDICATION OF IMMORALITY, JUDGE SAYS

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—(INS)—Bare legs and dimpled knees, revealed by abbreviated skirts, do not constitute immorality nor a menace to the community, Superior Court Judge Lindsay ruled today in reinstating a license to a dancing school following a fatal stabbing.

A patron of the school stabbed another in a quarrel over the attentions of one of the girl "taxi-dancers" who did not wear hose.

Judge Lindsay also criticized the "strained saintliness" of police and called attention to the even greater undress of the vigorous Spartans, as recorded in history.

If the police would look about the street they would see hundreds of women in scanty dress, the judge said.

BODY OF DEAD MAN PRESENTS DARK MYSTERY

POLICE BREAK IN ILLINOIS HOME TO FIND REMAINS OF MAN DEAD A WEEK AND WIFE BENDING OVER HIM MUMBLING WEIRD INCANTATIONS

PRINCETON, Ill., Oct. 16.—

(INS)—A mystery as perplexing as the deeds of the dark ages today presented itself to police, when they found the body of Ignatz Dringel, 65, dead a week in his home with his 65-year-old hunchback wife bending over him mumbling weird incantations and goeties.

The woman protested wildly when police hammered on the door and found the body on the floor. Dry blood stains were scattered profusely upon the furniture and walls of the living room.

Preliminary examination of the body failed to reveal any marks of violence. A burned match had been stuck into the flesh of the dead man behind his ear.

Patching together the disjointed words of the woman, police said they believed the aged man had fallen from his bed and that his wife had fed him on the floor as she was too weak to lift him.

Dringel had been a resident of Spring Valley, near here, for sixteen years. He was a former coal miner.

Coroner August Malm of Church County announced he would perform a postmortem upon the body and that an inquest would be held this afternoon.

Police were unable to account for the blood stains found.

Modern Mothers Help Create New Slogan

Millions More Each Year Turn To Famous External Method of Treating Colds

Each year more and more mothers turn to Vicks VapoRub, the modern external treatment for colds, because it is just rubbed on and cannot upset children's stomachs, as "dosing" is so apt to do.

Originally designed and first used largely for children's colds, this better external method gradually spread as one enthusiastic mother told another. Years of actual use also proved it equally effective for the colds of grown-ups. Today the whole trend of medical practice is away from needless "dosing" and Vicks—a household word in America—is used in more than 60 countries abroad.

The ever-growing demand for Vicks is shown in its familiar slogan, expressing the number of jars used yearly. First announced when Vicks reached "17 Million Jars Yearly"—later raised to "21 Million"—the figures are again being changed, as there are now "Over 26 Million Jars Used Yearly."

Greenwich Village Life

The atmosphere of the Greenwich Village studios and life on a Long Island country estate, two phases of New York life often mingled and distorted in films, is truly and carefully portrayed in the all-talking, singing and musical production "Half Marriage" which is playing today and Thursday at the Granada as a peppy Vitaphone presentation.

Youth runs rampant through the picture, with Olive Borden and Morgan Farley in the featured leads. Ken Murray and his Jolly Merry-makers furnish delightful entertainment in their latest songs, dances and novelty musical renditions. Mr. Murray is one of vaudeville's most popular musical ace's and appears for the first time on the talking screen in "Half Marriage."

The story is from the George Kibbe Turner magazine novel "Companionate," concerns a young art student who marries a budding architect in her father's employ, then tries to keep the nuptials a secret until hubby's genius is recognized.

Pat Rooney Family, will furnish exceptional entertainment as an added short subject "A Royal Pair," which is a presentation in all-talking, singing and dancing.

The entire program for Wednesday and Thursday is full of life and should appeal to everyone who prefers an evening of joy and delightful entertainment.

The Universal first run news and Indian Travelogue will complete the bill of the current attraction.

JUSTICE HOLMES KEEPS
VIGOROUS AT 88 YEARS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—(INS)—Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes of the Supreme Court is 88 years old, but has not reached the end of his crowded career. He still appears as vigorous as his frequently dissenting opinions.

And added to the weight of his years are three bullet wounds received in the civil war which he entered a lieutenant and emerged from a colonel. At Fall Bluff, he was shot through the breast, at Antietam through the neck and at Fredericksburg in the heel.

EISENBERG, Oct. 15.—(INS)—At the silver fox farm in Tunschutz, near this city, the first established in Europe, small microphones have been placed in all the kennels. This enables the manager of the farm to hear any unusual noise.

The less the animals are disturbed by humans, the better they flourish, and this is especially true during the breeding period. By the use of the radio such disturbing visits are reduced to a minimum.

Just Naturally Good

Good tobaccos . . . made good by Nature, not by "artificial treatment." That's the secret of OLD GOLD'S goodness

A chef may be able to make a doubtful steak taste good by artificial flavoring and sauces . . . But it's still dangerous to your stomach.

So it is with cigarette tobaccos. "Heat-treating" is useful to "set" and "sterilize" the tobaccos . . . and all cigarette makers have used it for years. But "heat-treating" cannot take the place of good tobacco in making a honey-smooth cigarette.

OLD GOLD tobaccos are naturally good. Carefully selected from Nature's best for smoothness, flavor and freedom from throat-scratch.

You have only to try a package to get the thrill of this smoother and better cigarette. That will tell you why OLD GOLD'S sales are ALREADY THREE TIMES GREATER than the combined sales of three leading brands during a like period of their existence.

Better Tobaccos make them smoother and better . . . with "not a cough in a carload"

NOT WORTHY OF BEING BARED

GARY, Ind., Oct. 15.—(INS)—They're insured for $1,000,000 according to the press agent, that is, Mistinguett's legs, but they are not worthy of being bared to the public gaze.

So declared the Rev. Raymond Schutz, professor of sociology at North Manchester college, North Manchester, Ind., when he addressed the W. C. T. U. here.

The Rev. Schutz urged the members to campaign against the bare leg and jazz dancing.

"It is not because the leg is nude but because it is crude to expose it that it should be kept covered in public," he said referring to midday's leg—limb rather.

"And dancing—I find that the dance is mentioned in the Bible but find no reference to the fox trot or the honey bun."

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., Oct. 15.—Ted Pettit, alleged companion and accomplice of Walter Ullrich in a holdup here Sunday night, was today lodged in the Montgomery county jail charged with having participated in the robbery of Ralph Chambers, filling station employee.

Lady Relates How New Medicine Brought Health After All Else Tried Had Failed

MRS. RUTH WILHOITE

"Konjola is the medicine I should have had in the first place," said Mrs. Ruth Wilhoite, 1357 West Ray street, Indianapolis, Ind. "For quite some time I suffered ill effects from a disordered stomach. Meals ceased to be a pleasure because the food always caused intense pains throughout my stomach. I began losing strength and weight, was rundown in general and became extremely nervous."

"A friend recommended Konjola to me and I decided to see what it could do in my case. The very first bottle proved to me that Konjola was an honest medicine. The poisons were swept away from my system; then my digestion was restored and my appetite increased. I feel like a different person, enjoying health I have not known for many years. It is a most pleasant duty to praise Konjola, for I know that this medicine will do for others what it has done for me."

Konjola is sold in Greencastle at the Owl drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

HOOVER APPOINTS ILLINOIS MAN JUDGE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—President Hoover sprung a surprise today in nominating Representative Thomas S. Williams of Harrisburg, Ill., for judge of the United States Court of Claims of the District of Columbia. Ewing Emison of Vincennes had been proposed for this place. However, there were 200 candidates for the appointment.

A second judge named to the court was Benjamin H. Littleton of Florida, now chairman of the United States board of tax appeals.

Appointments of the Illinois representative is regarded as purely a Hoover personal appointment. Williams was one member of the Illinois congressional delegation who delivered a speech prior to the Kansas City convention for Hoover's nomination. Other Illinois representatives had declared for Lowden. Williams, a member of the House agricultural committee, also rendered yeoman service in the drafting of a farm bill satisfactory to President Hoover.

TIGER CUBS AND DEPAUW PLAY AT LAFAYETTE

TWO GRID GAMES FOR LOCAL TEAMS SATURDAY WHEN GREENCASTLE PLAYS JEFFERSON IN MORNING AND TIGERS PLAY PURDUE IN AFTERNOON

Followers of local football teams will have a full day at Lafayette Saturday if they attend games played there by local high school and University teams.

At 10 o'clock in the morning the Tiger Cubs play the strong Jefferson team and in the afternoon the Depauw gridders stack up against the Purdue conference team.

Although Greencastle is rated slightly stronger than the Jefferson team the Cubs will have the handicap of the hard Brazil game today.

Depauw's only victory over Purdue was in 1918 when the Methodist school eked out a 9 to 7 victory over the Boilermakers. The Purdue and Depauw teams have played twenty-six games since their friendly rivalry started back in 1889.

Coach Hughes of Depauw has been pointing his Tigers all week for the game with the conference team and hopes to spring a surprise on the strong Lafayette squad. The Depauw freshmen, using Purdue plays, have been playing the Tiger first string men this week in an effort to acquaint them with the Boilermaker methods on the gridiron. Coach Hughes also has introduced a number of new plays to his Old Gold eleven which will get their first trial Saturday.

MAN DRAGGED FROM AUTO AND SHOT TO DEATH

YOUNG HUSBAND SHOT TO DEATH BEFORE EYES OF WIFE—MEMBER OF GIN PARTY REVEALS FACTS TO POLICE

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—(INS)—How an ex-soda clerk dragged a 27-year-old husband from his automobile and shot and killed him before his wife's eyes to satisfy a resentment following a traffic dispute was told police today.

Lyle Perrenoud, a salesman, was taken from his automobile Sunday night and shot by a man whom police thought was attempting a robbery.

The story as revealed to police by Mrs. Fay Allison, 29, a member of the party of four that stopped the Perrenoud car, states that Albert Vogel, 22, driver of their car became enraged when the other automobile passed theirs and cursed Perrenoud for "hogging" the road.

The woman described how Vogel followed the other automobile until it stopped at the Perrenoud home where he ordered the salesman and his wife out of the seat and behind the car and there shot Perrenoud through the heart.

"Then we went on our way to continue the weekend gin party," Mrs. Allison told police.

The woman was arrested following two holdups staged according to her story by members of the same party.

ARREST WITNESS FOR PANTAGES

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 16.—(INS)—Declaring that he would have any other witness arrested on perjury charges against whom he has "equally valid evidence" as he asserted he has against Garland Biffle, second defense witness in the girl attack trial of Alexander Pantages, wealthy theatrical magnate, district attorney Byron Fitts today prepared to lay alleged charges against Biffle before the grand jury.

Biffle was cordially greeted by operatives of the district attorney's office as he left the court room. In less than five minutes later he found him self in jail, booked for perjury.

Defense attorneys Ford and Gilbert Judge Fricke and District Attorney Fitts went into conference immediately after Pantages' lawyers were informed of their witness' arrest.

Fitts declared he had good grounds for arresting Biffle, an Arkansas attorney now selling law books in California, and that he would repeat the performance if he found reason to do so. Judge Fricke refused to interfere, saying it was out of his jurisdiction.

HENRY KOLLING'S RECITAL

A large and exceedingly enthusiastic audience greeted Henry Kolling, pianist, at his initial Greencastle recital in Meharry Hall last night. He has appeared once or twice before but last night gave his first full program, and was vigorously acclaimed. Accustomed as Meharry Hall audiences are to hearing really good music adequately produced, it was evident that this one was not disappointed in any respect.

It is but trite to say Mr. Kolling is an artist. He is the type of artist that appeals to all of his hearers. His choice of program numbers was excellent. The manner in which he played his Bach numbers was delightful. After his Beethoven Sonata, opus 101, he was recalled, and when he finished the Chopin Ballade in A flat his audience responded in a burst of enthusiasm such as is seldom heard in the old hall. He was repeatedly recalled after his last programmed number and responded by playing Brahms Intermezzo in C major.

Mr. Kolling has a big technic, fully adequate to any demands made upon it, a lovely legato, unusual strength, and a fine sense of color. It is not at all difficult to become enthusiastic over such playing as was heard last night.
